

Rainbow Challenge

Hi Girls and Boys,

Have any of you ever watched the TV show 'Art Attack' It was on TV when we were younger and Mrs O'Donnell loved it! This week we decided that we would like you to create an art attack! Look the show up on you tube and you will know what we mean!

So this week we are setting you a competition..... you have all seen the rainbows on windows and you have all probably painted ones yourselves but we are setting you a challenge to create the biggest rainbow....there's just one catch....you are not allowed to paint it or colour it with pencils, crayons or markers. We want you to use anything else that you can find. You can paint objects that you are going to use on the rainbow, just not the rainbow! So, you could paint stones red, you could collect green leaves, you could use blue milk carton tops (although you would need a lot of these), if you have purple clothing such as scarves, jumpers, hats, these could also be used. You can also mix and match materials, the choice is yours. Be as creative as you like!!

Now, we did say this was a competition so if you take a photo and send us your measurements (you have to do both), we will put them onto a table...whoever creates the biggest rainbow will win a £10 voucher for Smyths toystore.

Finally, we are giving you two weeks to do this...use this week to gather up your materials and next week to create your rainbow.

We can't wait to see your masterpieces!

Mrs O'Donnell and Miss Ramsay
